

Coast Guard

Hello Coast guard. What is the emergency?

There are people in the caves near the old lighthouse and looks like they are in trouble as the tide is cutting them off.

What is your name?

(insert name here)

Where are you?

I am on sandy beach in Helpmeville

Can you describe your location?

We are on the coastal path near the HV005 coast guard sign

Can you tell me what the weather conditions are like?

It is sunny and the but there are grey clouds forming and I think I can see a storm approaching from the sea

Do you know what time the high tide is where you are?

Well it is 2pm now and I think high tide is at 3pm

Are the people being cut off by the tide now?

Yes and the tide is coming in fast

How many people are being cut off by the tide?

Three People

Do you know their names?

No, they are too far away to hear their names but i can hear that they are shouting for help and waving

Do you know their ages?

No but there is a Man, a girl and boy

Can you describe to me what clothes they are wearing?

The man is wearing a whirt shirt and sandy trousers, the girl is wearing an orange top and brown skirt & the boy is wearing a red t-shirt and blue trousers

Do you know if anyone needs medical attention?

I don't think so, but they look really scared.

Can you stay on the telephone with me whilst I send some help to the people?

yes

Can you stay where you are, and I will send a Coastguard Officer to meet you?

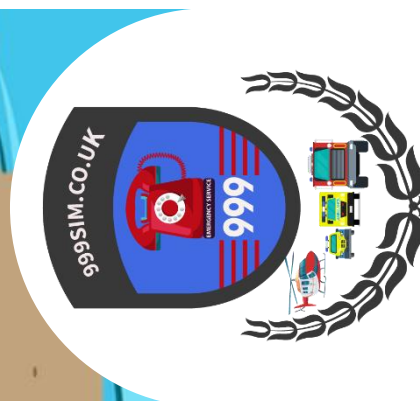

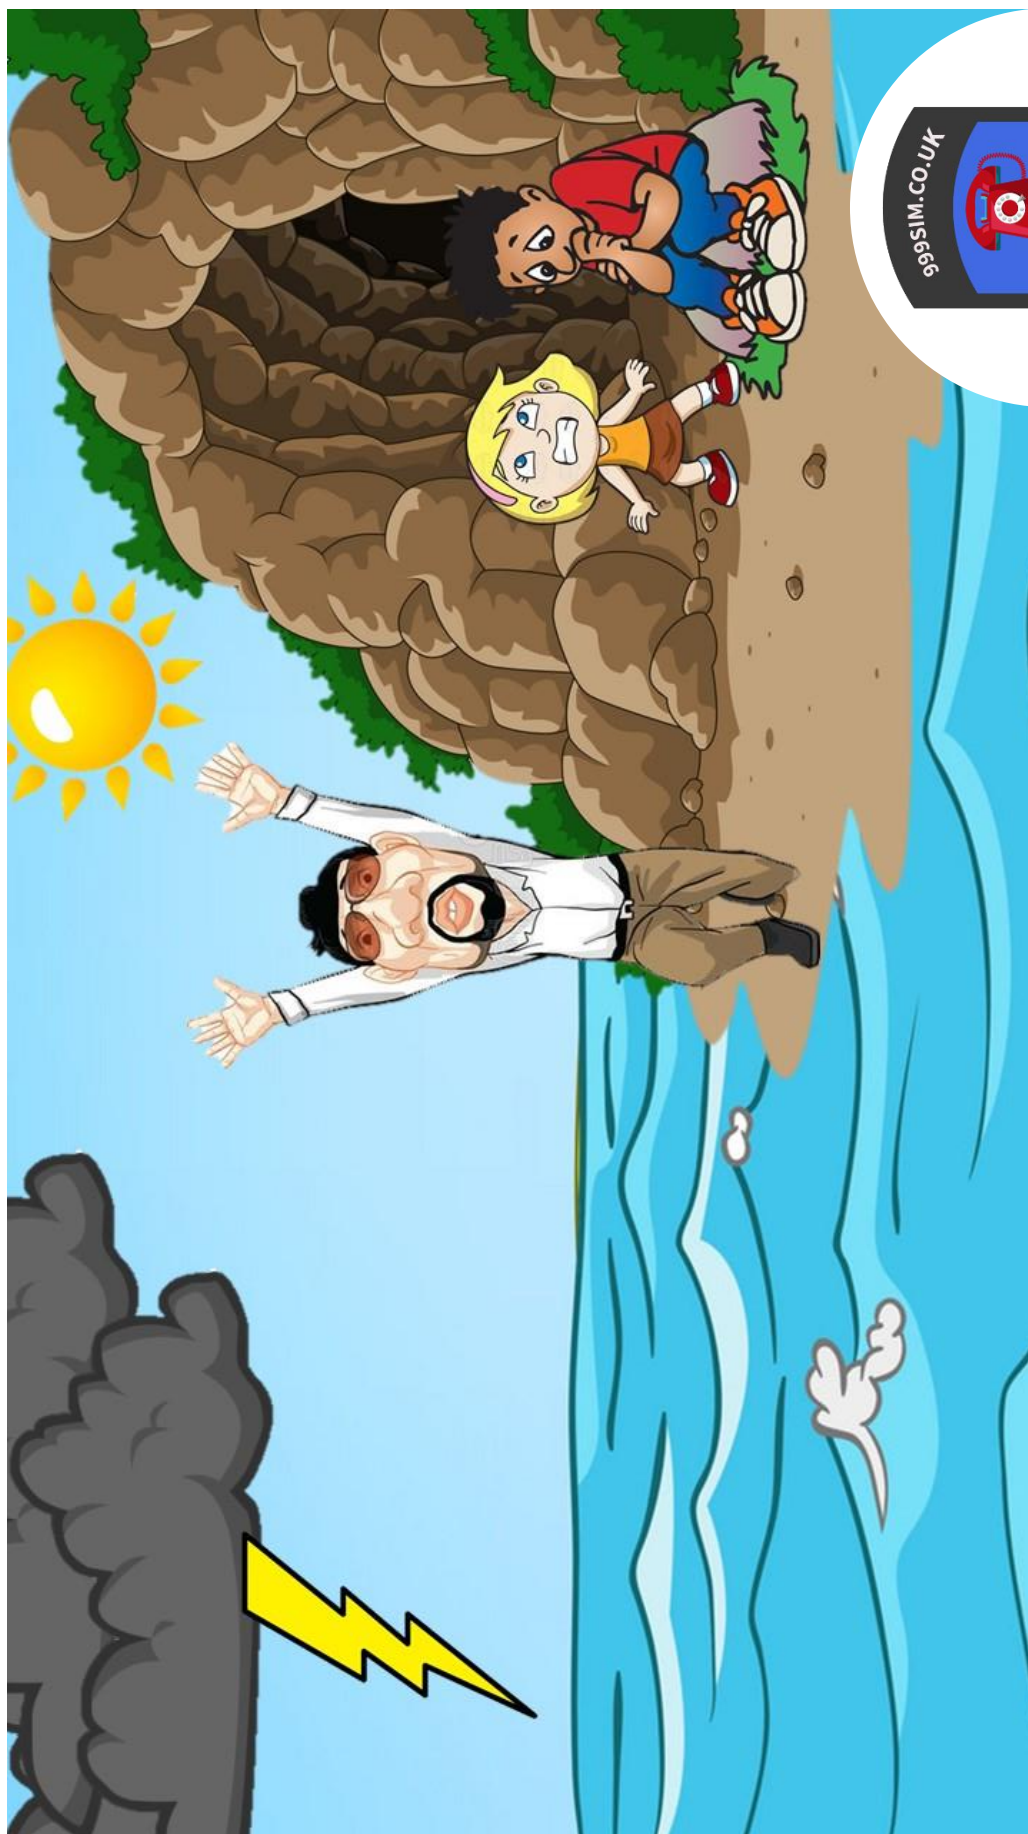

I will stay here near the sign HV005

That's great an officer will be with you shortly. Can you shout that help is on the way to them?

Yes, I will shout to them

Fantastic thankyou stay where you are and help will be with you shortly, but I am going to hang up now as I have another call coming in, ok? Stay where you are and help will be with you soon, Goodbye.

OK, Bye

Scenario:

You are walking along the beach in Helpmeville. Across the bay you see a man aged about 40 and his children that have been cut off by the tide. You are next to a beach information sign HV005. It's sunny and hot but there is a storm coming. The time is 2pm and the tide is coming in and is due fully in at 3pm.
